

POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

Position: Full time, 100% (12 months), Clinical Track Assistant or Associate Professor of Farm Animal Medicine and Surgery

Location: Department of Large Animal Clinical Sciences, The University of Tennessee College of Veterinary Medicine, 2407 River Drive Knoxville, TN 37996-4545

Qualifications: Candidates must have a DVM, VMD, or equivalent degree and have completed a clinical residency program and board certification recognized by the American Board of Veterinary Specialties (ACVIM, ACVS, ABVP). Although preference will be given to board certified specialists, candidates eligible to take their board certification examination will be considered. Preference will be given to applicants with experience with livestock species as well as those having interest in companion livestock (pet pigs, small ruminants, and camelids).

Duties: Expectations for this position include primarily clinical service and teaching, and some didactic and laboratory teaching. The faculty member will share in the clinical and didactic teaching of students in the veterinary curriculum and the training of interns and residents in specialty emphasis areas. Responsibilities include individual animal care for food and fiber animal species (beef and dairy cattle, sheep and goats, camelids, and swine). The faculty member will participate in clinical emergency duty with other faculty members. Faculty are expected to develop new teaching and education courses and tools, contribute to the discovery of new knowledge, and to participate in outreach to veterinarians, producers, and other stake holders.

Salary: Commensurate with training and experience

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of intent, current curriculum vitae, and names, addresses, e-mail address, and phone numbers of at least three professional references to:
