

We are Hiring

UC DAVIS
VETERINARY MEDICINE

Clinical Faculty in Community Surgery

The Department of Surgical and Radiological Sciences at the UC Davis School of Veterinary Medicine seeks candidates for a clinical faculty position in the field of Community Surgery.

The position includes a 90% clinical effort to the Community Surgery Service of the Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital. Other responsibilities include teaching, professional competence, creative scholarship, and service.

Qualifications: DVM or equivalent degree. A minimum of 10 years of experience practicing as a small animal veterinarian in a private or academic setting is required. At least 5 years of experience in teaching and performing small animal surgery is required. The successful candidate will have demonstrated aptitude in clinical teaching of all aspects of small animal surgery. Excellent interpersonal and communication skills are required to join our collaborative team. A strong interest in the oversight of schoolwide clinical education is desired.

Salary range: $186,600 to $318,600.

For fullest consideration, please review the full position description and apply here or visit QR code below:

<https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/JPF06762>

The deadline for full consideration is November 14, 2024, although applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Join the #1 School for Veterinary Medicine in the Nation.

World-Renowned Institution

UC Davis ranks among the top veterinary schools globally, known for its cutting-edge research and innovative approach to animal health.

Collaborative Environment

Join a diverse and collaborative community of experts, students, and professionals all focused on a common goal—improving animal health.

- #1 for Diversity, Inclusiveness and Internationalization
- #1 in Campus Sustainability
- Forbes Best Employer for Women